SESSION OF THE Big Waterworks Bond Proposition Fivorably Considered-Tax Levy Increased to Old Figure.

ogden, July 27 .- At the session of the city council last night a communication from Mayor Glasmann was read, which explained that the preent water supply is highly inadenate for the growing population and ecommended that a special election recommended that a special election by called to authorize the city to issue bonds amounting to $100,000 to be paid off in four annual installments. The mayor showed that the increased profit from the enlarged system would be sufficient to pay off the debt in tour years.

Improvements necessary to increase the water supply will be the construction of a new water conduit from Cold Water canyon to the new reservoir, and the construction of another conduit from the reservoir down Twenty-third street, where connection with the distributive system will be made The mayor's communication was unanimously adopted and the city attorney was instructed to take steps toward calling a special bond election.

steps toward calling a special bond election. In the same communication the mayor called attention to the debts and unpaid bills held against the dity, which aggregated $130,000, and recommended that the tax levy, which was fixed by the council last week at $4 mills, be changed to 10 miles, as fi was last year. This was also adopted and the levy was fixed as follows: Contingent expenses, 4.6 mills; maintenance of streets and sidewalks, 5 mills; sewers and drains, .1 mill; and public library, .3 mill.

City Engineer Bostaph presented plans and specifications for the construction of sewers, sidewalks, paving and curbing on Hudson avenue. These specifications were adopted and the engineer instructed to advertise for bids for the work.

PIONEER CHARACTERISTICS DISCLOSED IN CELEBRATION

(Special Correspondence.)

PAYSON, Itah Co., July 26.—Payson's celebration of Pioneer day yesterday was one of the largest celebrations ever held here. The parade was the longest seen in years, representing scenes incident to travel across the plains and pioneer life, also a representation of modern life showing the contrast of the bardships encountered in the settlement of this land with the comfortable surroundings of the present time.

The program at the park was interesting for its many novel features. The magnificent address by Judge O. W. Powers, in which he paid tribute to the Pioneers, was greatly enjoyed by the large gathering.

A game of baseball at the campus in the afternoon by the Payson and Occidental teams resulted in victory for the colored team.

PIONEER DAY PROGRAM.

KAMAS, July 25.—Today, Pioneer day, was celebrated here by the people of Kamas and many from adjoining wards in the valley. In the forenoon meeting was held in the opera house and an excellent program rendered. The oration by Dr. Fred J. Pack of the University of Utah was a feature of the occasion, and judging from the applause was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. In the afternoon, while the children's dance was in progress, an exhibition of livestock was held in the schoolhouse grounds, and prizes were awarded. The display made shows that the people are deeply interested in "blooded" animals and are keeping pace with the rest of Utah in improving its stock.

The balance of the afternoon was greet in foot raging and horse raging.

The balance of the afternoon was spent in foot racing and horse racing. At night the dance was attended by people from Peoa to Woodland, the music being furnished by the recently organized local band.

The haying season is on in full blast, and immense stacks of hay are being piled up on every hand, the indications being that this will be the banner year for Kamas.

And Other Concessions-Other

Council Notes.

(Special Correspondence.) PROVO, July 27.-At the council meeting last night the protesting taxpayers in sewer extension 11 won their fight, when they were granted an exthe first payment on the work, and also in receiving the assurance of the council that all money received from the state mental hospital, the Maeser nemorial building and other sources, the state mental hospital, the Maeser memorial building and other sources, not already taxed, will be paid to them, pro rata, instead of going into the city treasury. John B. Milner and J. W. N. Whitecotton appeared before the council for the protestants.

A board of equalization was appointed to meet Aug. 1, 2 and 3, to hear complaints and to report on the matter of the protests. The James Kennedy Construction company, which is building the sewer, was granted an extension of 60 days to complete the work.

Consulting Engineer L. C. Kelseys plans and specifications for a change of the present waterworks mains to the higher ground on Rock canyon bench were received and adopted. This will cost about $90,000, which amount was recently raised in the sale of bonds. Bids for the work will be opened on Aug. 23 at 3 p.m.

Anticipating the resignation of City Engineer Jacobs, which takes effect Sept. 15, Mr. Kelsey offered to do the engineering work for Provo as consulting engineer as follows: Waterworks, 3 per cent of cost in addition to 1 per cent as consulting engineer; sewers and sidewalks, 2½ per cent of cost. The committees on waterworks and sewers will consider the matter.

The plat of the Kirkham-Berry tract, east of the city, was accepted.

The finance committee placed the estimated expenditures for the year at $66,136,12, with about $15,000 coming from licenses and other sources, and a balance of $51,136,12 to be collected in taxes. The following tax levies were ordered: Contingent, 5 mills; waterworks and Irrigation, 3; streets and alleys, 5; interest on waterworks bonds, 3; public library, 1; sewers and drains, 1; making a total of 18 mills. The levy lest year was 17¼ mills. The levy lest year was 17¼ mills. The new levy was authorized by the council.

A new sewer district on Academy avenue, between Sixth South and Eighth South streets, was created. The property owners will pay for an 8-inch pipe, but the council will lay a 24-inch main and will pay the difference in cost between the two. It is believed this
